

Environmental and Ethical Policy

Systemcare products and its global Partners recognises its responsibility as an organisation towards the short and long term impacts of its business in relation to the environment, both locally and globally and to its employees, customers and to the Planet. Systemcare endeavours to limit the impact of its activities to prevent pollution, through responsible waste control and production and to use earth friendly components whenever possible.

To reduce global carbon footprints to ensure shipping and manufacturing always take this into consideration.

Wherever possible we will use recyclable, recycled and biodegradable components.

We encourage our customers to take environmental issues into consideration when making product choices.

We comply fully with all legislation we are aware of in good faith.

We continually encourage our staff to think, work and make suggestions to improve our environmental ethos.

We do not support the use of low cost child labour in some parts of the world and always visit component suppliers to make our own evaluations and will always consider the ethical policies of our customers.
